BIO

Acidulant is a formidable force in the global electronic circuit, celebrated for an uncompromising dedication to the raw energy of analog sound. A master of the Roland TB-303, he seamlessly bridges the gap between dynamic DJ performances and Live showcases. Whether delivering a high-octane DJ set or a real-time improvisation, his 2026 appearances are defined by hypnotic sequences and driving rhythms. With a prolific discography spanning premier UK, US, and European imprints, Acidulant remains a rare, analog-driven anomaly, an architect of powerful, dancefloor-focused experiences.
